

CREMIT
BOB GUTTMAN

August 8, 1982

I went over in the afternoon to watch the House pass the Jobs Bill. The Republicans packaged the governor's power item and the PIC council item together in an Erlenborn amendment which lost about 219-185. I Bob said the business guys--NAB and CED were upset about the coupling. "They felt the governor's dragged them down."

"Dan and Hatch had a falling out last night. Dan voted for the debt limit amendment. I went to see Dan about getting a conference organized and he said we'd better wait a day or two for a cooling off period."

The Washington Post of Aug. 5., the next day, had not mention of this bill. It was the day the Senate passed the balanced budget amendment. So, if you read the Post, you would never have known it happened.

When I was there, there were 2 reporters in the press gallery!!

NYT did.
