

LESTER ROSEN

May 26, 1982

I swung by to see Lester re markup. "We may have trouble getting quorum." "We have a tenuous agreement between the White House and Quayle and Hatch. Whether Kennedy will buy it remains an open question. The wage prohibition is still in there, but they've added a sweetener--a summer program. Dan feels pretty good about it. He was supposed to call Kennedy last night, and Weicker. And he'll meet with Stafford before the markup. Weicker and Stafford, of course are key votes."

Fenno: But Dan feels pretty good about it.

Cynthia: Dan does, but Bob doesn't.

Lester: He thinks it will be hard to <sup>sell</sup> call.
