Dear Mr. Eastman:

May I offer my sincere and most cordial congratulations and good wishes on the occasion of your seventy-fifth birthday? It reminds me of all the pleasure which has come to me from all of my contacts with you since my arrival in Rochester fourteen years ago. I can hardly wish for myself anything better than to hope that I may achieve my seventy-fifth milestone with the good health and fine spirits which are yours.

Mrs. Snyder joins me in congratulations, and in the hope that you may enjoy as many happy returns of the day as you wish.

Most sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Eastman,

I just read in the paper that you are celebrating to day your 75th birthday and although I don't have the pleasure of knowing you I feel that I must congratulate you in the name of my departed brother Frederick. No doubt you will remember him when he was connected with Ostheimer Bros. Phila. Importers of fancy bottles for Perfume and later as a member of the firm of J. Springer & Co. New York.

7/12/29
I remember some 30 or 40 years ago how often he spoke to me what a loyal and kind friend he was and how well he always was received when he came to Rochester.

My brother died during the World war in Terez, Gecho Slovakia about 32 years ago.

May your life be long, many more years for the benefit of all mankind.

Yours sincerely,

Eugene Springer.

Dear Mr. Eastman,

I arrived this morning from the United States, and read in the London Times the friendly reference to the 70th anniversary of your birth, upon which I heartily congratulate you.

I know of no one whose career represents greater achievement and usefulness to the world.

Your contributions to industry, science and public works of every kind make a chapter that fills Rochester with pride, and indeed, has endeared you to the world.

Very truly yours,
