Dear Mr. Eastman,

Yours ever and I have just read the Chronicles of an African trip. I made the trip in 1921 but things have changed very much since I visited the Nubian B. F. Miller at Khumki
The has since died. I have read the Vol. very Carefully and enjoyed it thoroughly. Much of the ground covered was also covered by us. We made a motor trip into Uganda and through the Kavango Country. We saw a lion, also a leopard. Many thanks for the book which is very interesting.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Eastman:

I appreciate your gift of a copy of your "African chronicles."

It has the charm of an intimate unpretentiousness, wearing the white, most elegant dress.

It is, as is decidedly fitting, "very Eastman."

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Eastman:

I just received a copy of your book entitled, "Chronicles of An African Trip", which was a pleasure unexpected and a pleasure that will please for years to come.

It also was pleasant to hear of the many kind words and other help you gave my Son and Son, my Daughter-in-law, while in Africa, and else back in the States.

Having spent some time in that far away country myself, also adds to the enjoyment.

Many, many thanks.

Dear George:

I am delighted to receive the book of your African trip. I shall read it immediately with a great deal of interest, feeling confident that it will be as interesting as it looks. It was mighty nice of you to send it.

I will put it in my library among the books by the authors I have known.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Seaman

My dear Mr. Eastman:

Thank you for your book. I have read it and I am reading it again. Amazed at what you had done in the first letter, I wondered if you could keep it up in the others— the easy flowing English that carried the reader with you on the African hunt. You did.

Mrs. Goler says she was brought up on the travels of Paul du Chaillu and Sir Samuel Baker but that you beat them for flowing and interesting narrative.

I am much interested in your primitive bath. I had employed such a bath in the army, only with a pail, siphon, and, rubber tube, and, a lamp beneath to warm the water. I had not thought of the clothes pin as a check.

Thank you again for the enjoyment you have given us in reading your interesting book.

Sincerely yours,

G. W. Goler.

My dear Mr. Eastman,

I want to thank you for so kindly sending me the account of your African trip. I am reading it with keen interest, and with appreciation of the facts with which you must have entered into this new and extraordinary adventure. The splendid picture which you have added to your own vivid account of your doings give one a very clear impression of your experience. Again, my warmest thanks.

It is needless to ask after your health with such a record before me. I hope it may long continue equally good.

Mrs. de Flagey joins me in cordial regards & best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Eastman:

On my return from Chicago today I have received a copy of your book, concerning which Mr. Henry Cochran was kind enough to have a message transmitted to you.

It was not without hesitation that I mentioned the matter even to him, although I know of his friendship and connection with Mr. Daniel Pomarey, and the prompt receipt of the book with such a generous and acceptable note only makes it the more appreciated and the more highly prized.

The letters and photographs are so wonderfully good that it is one of my most valued possessions, and please believe that I can fully appreciate it all and can continue to enjoy it most thoroughly, for it was my good fortune to make a trip to Africa in 1915, visiting many of the places that you name, and for a similar purpose. This was before the gas engine had almost revolutionised so many features of our modern development, and of course our safari was with porters, but with the most enjoyable companionship of Mr. A. B. Hepburn, whom you no doubt at least know of, I had as fine a holiday as anyone could wish.

Thanking you most sincerely for your kindness in sending me your book, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Eastman,

I was delighted to receive from you your book, "Chronicles of an African Trip." I haven’t had an opportunity to read it throughly, but have glanced through it and I know I shall be tremendously interested in it.

I have many pleasant recollections of the trip we had up the Stikine River and envy you very much your African visit.

I am very grateful to you for remembering me.

Yours sincerely,

T. Jefferson Coolidge
