ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it taken, that is, telephoned back to the originating office for comparison. For this reason, the overcharged message rate is charged in addition. Unless otherwise indicated on the face of the message, and paid for as such, as evidenced by the signature of the sender or his agent where required between the sender of the message and this company as follows:

1. The company will not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the uncharged or actual charge rate beyond the sum of six thousand dollars, unless specially agreed to in any case for delays arising from unavoidable circumstances, such as inclement weather, or other causes.

2. In any event, the company will not be liable for damages for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for the non-delivery, of any message, whether caused for the reasons of its servants of whatever, beyond the sum of six thousand dollars, at which amount such services is deemed to be paid, unless a statement is so made by the sender, and delivered, at the time the message is composed for transmission, and unless the required payment is paid to or agreed to be paid, and an additional charge equal to one-half of one per cent. of the amount for which such services shall become due, which shall be paid to the company as a result of the additional charge, and in no case shall the company be held liable for any other company when necessary to reach its destination.

3. Distinctive message and charging cable messages will be delivered free from one-half mile of the company's office in town of 2,500 population or less, and within meals of each office in cities or towns. Beyond these limits the company does not undertake to make delivery, but will, without liability, at sender's request, as far and as its means, entrust to someone for him for such delivery at a reasonable price.

4. Responsibility attaches to the company composing or transmitting messages only when the same are accepted by it at its composing offices, and when it is so agreed to in writing.

5. Responsibility for the safe delivery of messages shall be limited to the amount of damages of which complained.

6. In the event the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

7. It is agreed that in any action by the carrier to recover moneys for any message or messages the present and current transmission and delivery thereof shall be presumed, subject to written written evidence.

8. Special terms governing the transmission of messages according to their classes, as mentioned below, shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes in addition to all the foregoing terms.

No employee of the company is authorized to vary the foregoing.
