THIS little book shows something of what the boys and girls of the Brownie Camera Club have accomplished. By the terms of the competition, which closed December first, all of the pictures were taken by boys and girls under sixteen, years of age, and in Class A the pictures were not only taken, but were developed and printed by the boys and girls themselves. The average quality of the 4072 pictures entered was surprisingly high—a proof that the ambitious young contestants have grasped a considerable knowledge of photography and a striking testimonial to the efficiency of the little dollar Brownie.

Owing to the limitations of the half-tone process, there are some of the very best pictures which we are not able to reproduce here in such a way as to give an idea of their original beauty, and they have consequently been omitted. In making our selection of pictures for reproduction in these pages we have not, therefore, picked out those which were awarded the highest prizes but have used instead the photographs which were best adapted to the requirements of the half-tone engraver.

It is a source of no slight satisfaction to us that the Brownie Camera has given such excellent results in the hands of the boys and girls, and we hope that this little book will, by showing something of what has been accomplished, prove a help to other young people who have photographic ambitions.

THE BROWNIE CAMERA.

With the name Eastman behind it the Brownie Camera needs no further guarantee.
Brownie Cameras.

For square pictures, 2 ¼ x 2 ¼ inches; capacity, 6 exposures without reloading; size of camera, 3 x 3 ½ x 4 ½ inches; weight, 8 ounces; length of focus of lens, 3 ¾ inches.

The Brownie Cameras are compact and perfect little instruments. They load in daylight with our six exposure film cartridges and as proven by the work shown in the preceding pages are so simple that they can be readily operated by any school boy or girl.

The Brownies are fitted with fine Meniscus lenses and our famous Rotary shutters, such as are used on the Bullet and Bulls-Eye Kodaks. This shutter is always set. Snap shots are made by simply pushing the lever "A" alternately to the right or left, thus revolving the metal disc and making the exposure as the opening in disc passes the lens.

For time exposures the Kodaker simply pulls out the slide "B" and then pushes the lever "A" in one direction to open and in the opposite direction to close the shutter.
will be seen that when the slide “B” is pulled out the shutter strikes as it passes the lens, stopping half way across with the opening over the lens.

V shaped lines on top of camera give the scope of view, and the novice will soon be able to judge accurately by them just what will appear in the picture, or a Brownie Finder (detachable) may be provided for only 25 cents.

The Brownie finder can be attached or detached in an instant, a metal clamp clasping the top of camera and holding it securely in position, while a shoulder on this clamp prevents it from being placed too far to the left.
The Brownies are strongly made, are covered with imitation leather and have nickled fittings.
