

would." Ed and I agreed that, despite what he says, he'll get elected on generalities.

Ed talked about RR and JG as having same values--family, God, patriotism, but that RR's crucible was Hollywood, which is past oriented and JG's crucible was space program which is future oriented. Glenn not afraid of future; is comfortable with research, development, high technology, future problems. He evokes nostalgia, but he's future looking. "Old values, new horizons."
